BE PART OF HISTORY WITH BBC CHILDREN IN NEED'S ROYALLY BIG PORTRAIT!

TEACHERS...

- 1 Ask your pupils to use the blank side of this page to draw their portrait. Make sure they only use black pen and they sign their initials next to their drawing
- 2 Press play on the interactive art lesson video (accessible on the Primary Schools homepage at bbc.co.uk/cin) and let your pupils follow along
- 3 Hand this resource to pupils to take home to their parents or guardians. Ask the children to keep the drawing as flat as possible!

PARENTS & GUARDIANS...

Your child has brilliantly taken part in BBC Children in Need's Royally Big Portrait to celebrate the upcoming historic Coronation in May. We'd love to include their creative piece in one big final portrait of King Charles III.

To be part of this unique opportunity and to receive a digital version of the portrait with your child's artwork within it, follow the steps below.

- 1 Snap a photo of your child's portrait of King Charles III on the back of this resource
- 2 Go to bbc.co.uk/cin to upload your child's drawing in a few easy steps
- 3 The artist, Sam Barnett, will get in touch with you once the final portrait is ready with a special digital link to allow you to view your child's work
- 4 You can then send this link to family and friends to celebrate your child's creativity and the historic Coronation

Use the blank side of this paper to draw your portrait
